Message from Rev'd Adam Wells

Dear Friends,

As usual in this quarter of the year, the front cover of the plan proclaims the Easter message. The picture shows an empty cross, because Jesus has been taken down from it, and is risen.

This year, the whole of Lent falls in the same quarter and Easter is not until April 20th. I was reminded that Lent has traditionally been a time of preparation for those coming to baptism/confirmation/church membership or seeking to be re-admitted into full membership of the church after times of difficulty and absence. If we were to use the Gospel readings as a means of preparation, what would we learn about Jesus?

Lent 1. Jesus' Temptation in the Wilderness, this year using Luke 4. We learn not only of the need to resist all sorts of temptation and try to do God's will, but also of how Jesus set about his public ministry, which began with 40 days in the Wilderness. He concentrated on doing the will of God the Father, resisted evil and doing anything for his own benefit.

Lent 2. In Luke 13.31-35, we learn how Jesus foretells his death and his rejection in Jerusalem.

Lent 3. Luke 13.1 – 9. We learn of the need for repentance and that suffering should not be seen as a sign of sinfulness or punishment by God.

Lent 4. In the unlikely event that we were not celebrating Mothering Sunday, the Lectionary offers Luke 15.1-3 where we learn that Jesus welcomed outcasts and even spent time with them.

Lent 5. Passion Sunday in John 12.1–8. We find Jesus at the house of Martha, Mary and Lazarus. Through the seeming scandal of expensive perfume we learn of the importance of the death of Jesus and of his warning that his followers would not always have him with them.

Lent 6. Palm Sunday in Luke 19.28–40, Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem marks the beginning of the adventure of Holy Week leading to Easter. We learn something of the nature of Jesus' kingship, he is humble and riding on a donkey.

Just using the Gospel readings we learn a substantial amount about Jesus. I think this year I am going to try particularly hard to live Lent and not to rush too quickly into Easter. One way of doing this would be to join one of the Lent Groups highlighted in this Plan and Newsletter.

Have a happy and Holy Lent.

Adam
